FOREWORD

With the participation of the Selcuk University Institute of Health Sciences Administration and our internal stakeholders, the "Institute of Health Sciences Graduate Education Evaluation and Update Internal Stakeholder Meeting" has been successfully completed. With the valuable contributions of our esteemed Rector, Prof. Dr. Metin AKSOY, and our Vice Rector, Prof. Dr. Ahmet Tuğrul POLAT, who also serves as the Coordinator of the Quality Board and Quality Commission, discussions were held on the current status of our Institute, improvement suggestions, methods, and the necessary approaches to enhance quality within the scope of accreditation.

Institute Council meetings were held, and support from department chairs was obtained to initiate curriculum update efforts in graduate education and to ensure rapid compliance with both ORPHEUS and YÖKAK institutional accreditation processes. In light of the qualitative and quantitative data presented in the 2021 Self-Assessment Report, our Institute's Mission and Vision have been updated. Additionally, it was decided that the Education and Training Committees, established in the 2021-2022 academic year, would hold periodic (semesterly/annual) meetings to lead internal and external activities.

This report has been prepared to present the discussed agenda items and decisions to all our stakeholders. On behalf of the Institute Administration, I hope that this report will be beneficial for graduate education and training.

AGENDA

- HOW WE STARTED?
- WHAT PROGRESS WE HAVE ACHIEVED?

- The curriculum update and transition to the ECTS system, as defined by the Bologna Process, have been completed and implemented.

- A more dynamic website has been developed to establish a corporate identity.

- Institute data (such as the number of students, graduates, new enrollments, and students granted extensions) has been transparently shared on the website.

- The graduate program workflow diagrams published on the website have made the education process clearer and more guiding for students.

- The process of graduate student recruitment was started with the end of the current semester; the average ALES / DİL scores of the students admitted in the early period have increased and more qualified students have been recruited.

- We analyzed the activities carried out at the institute level to evaluate our strengths and weaknesses. To ensure easy access to information, we have shared it openly on our website.

- ORPHEUS (Organization of PhD in Biomedicine and Health Sciences Europe System), which aims to develop and expand basic standards and best practices in Doctoral Education in Biotypes and Health Sciences, graduates of doctoral programs. As the Institute, we became a member of the organization on 25 June 2021, which aims to raise the standards of the qualifications that those who will have, and to recognize the diplomas internationally.

ORganisation for PhD Education in Biomedicine and Health Science in the European System

- To improve graduate education and ensure a more systematic progression, ORPHEUS Board, Quality Board, and Advisory Boards have been established.

- Quality studies have been initiated within the scope of Institutional Accreditation of our university by YÖK-AK and are currently ongoing.
- In order to determine the duties and responsibilities of the advisors, S.Ü. Graduate Advisory Directive was prepared and approved by the Senate and put into force.
- Our legislation prepared for the opening and maintenance of the specialization course to be taken during graduate education; S.Ü. Specialization Field Course Directive was accepted by the Senate and entered into force
- It was decided that the Selcuk University Institute of Health Sciences Student/Advisor Agreement, which defines the responsibilities of students and advisors, will be effective for PhD students starting their education in the 2022-2023 academic year.
- With the graduate student quota form updated as of the Spring Semester of the 2022-2023 Academic Year, the distribution information of the students planned to be admitted on the basis of faculty members was requested together with the total quota request, and the faculty member was given the right to request students.
- Starting from the Spring Semester of the 2022-2023 Academic Year, the updated advisor notification form grants students the right to choose their advisor. The advisor distribution process considers maximum advisory capacities based on preference density and assigns advisors according to students' placement scores.

- In order to ensure full representative democracy of the students, student representatives were elected by postgraduate students, and their participation in the Board of Directors meetings was ensured, and their opinions and suggestions were received.
- In order to identify the thoughts, opinions and tendencies of our students in graduate education, as well as to identify our strengths and weaknesses, four different topics that will provide feedback in a certain regularity survey was prepared and published online.

WHAT TO DO NEXT;

- Getting the ORPHEUS Label,
- Receiving YÖK-AK Institutional Accreditation,
- Organizing consultancy training sessions,
- To provide student with the necessary information about graduate education and to help them adapt to the educational process, it is planned to hold the first Graduate Student Talks – Webinar on June 21, 2022, and continue these sessions periodically,
- Making necessary arrangements and improvements as a result of survey feedback.

INTERNAL STAKEHOLDER WORKSHOP DECISIONS

A decision has been made to continue the mission and vision of our Institute of Health Sciences as outlined below.

Mission of the Institute of Health: To train qualified scientific experts and specialists in the field, who will contribute to science at national and international levels in the field of health sciences, with entrepreneurial, innovative, self-confident, courageous, questioning, open to universal knowledge, independent, and creative thinking, possessing contemporary and scientific thought.

Vision of the Institute of Health Sciences: It will continue to be an ideal institute with its pioneering and innovative practices in education and research for future generations, producing knowledge that will contribute to science at an international level, and training students to become courageous, independent, and creative thinkers as scientists and experts.

It has been decided that the learning objectives of the courses in the active graduate programs under the departments of the Institute of Health Sciences will be reported to our Institute in Turkish/English. Opinions and suggestions within the scope of education and training improvement to be taken into consideration.

It has been decided that the Selcuk University General Academic Calendar will be aligned with the Institute's Academic Calendar.
